

Multilingual Web Standards

Antoine, Dimitra, John,
Manuel, Nancy,

Problem

- Europeana and other pages have to build an application to select between multilingual pages
- If you want to visit a page in your mother tongue, you have to speak English, so that you go to the drop-down list of languages

Solutions

- Content negotiation transparency
- Direct URI
- A standard where the request goes to the server, starts to interpret things and finds personalized files.

Recommendation

- 3 standards
 - For Multilingual Websites
 - For Multilingual Linked Data
 - For Multilingual URI
- Both standards should be coordinated to address URIs.
- Icon (similar to Bluetooth) that means languages and the end-user can click on.
